MOTHER AND CHILDREN WERE BURNED TO DEATH

Seven Lives Lost in Fire That Destroyed Home at St. John's Parish, Isle of Orleans, Near Quebec

QUEBEC, Aug. 4.—Seven lives were lost in a fire which early today destroyed the home of Joseph Pauquette at St. John parish, Isle of Orleans, some 15 miles east of Quebec.

The dead are: Mrs. Pauquette, her five children, three girls and two boys, and an unknown woman who was staying in the house.

The fire was caused by the explosion of a lamp. Neighbors made a gallant attempt to rescue the imprisoned family whose frantic cries for help attracted their attention. Pauquette, who is a river pilot, and one child were rescued, the former terribly burned.

DEE MADE HOME RUN IN THE SIXTH

Lowell in Lead at Seventh in Game With Portland at Spaulding Park This Afternoon

Lowell	1	0	0	0	0	3	3	X	X
Portland	0	0	0	1	0	0	0	X	X

About 600 fans journeyed out to Spaulding park this afternoon to see the game between the Lowell Grays and Duffy's Portland clubbers, and at the outset they were greatly disappointed to find that the league umpire assigned to officiate at the game was not there in time to call play. Duffy was designated by Secretary Cooper to take charge of this afternoon's festivities and as on Saturday the managers found it necessary to start the game with players making the decisions. This fact always causes dissatisfaction and the spectators were incensed when they learned that the little "ump" was not on hand.

The contest started with Minner of Lowell and Jewell of Portland holding the indicators. In the third inning, however, Duffy put in an appearance, and he took charge of the game. Henderson and Daly started at the bat for Lowell, with Mayberry and Hayden doing the honors for the visitors.

The lineup for today's game was as follows:

Lowell	Portland
Clemens, cf	cf, Burns
Aubrey, ss	ss, Burns
DeGroff, rf	2b, Bowcock
Magee, lf	1b, Humphrey
Halstein, lb	rf, Nickerson
Miller, 2b	ss, Hickman
Daly, c	3b, Sullivan
Dee, ss	c, Hayden
Henderson, p	p, Mayberry

Merrill fanned. Burns and Bowcock both fled out to DeGroff. Clemens singled to center and was sacrificed to second by Aubrey. DeGroff struck out. Magee walked and Halstein hit to center scoring Clemens. Miller grounded out to Sullivan. Score: Lowell 1, Portland 0.

Pumphrey went out, Aubrey to Halstein. Aubrey also threw out Nickerson and then caught Hickman's fly. Daly fled out to Merrill. Dee was thrown out at first by Mayberry. Merrill ran back to the fence and took Henderson's long fly. Score: Lowell 1, Portland 0.

force scoring three runs. Henderson singled between first and second. Clemens fled out to Burns.

Score: Lowell 1, Portland 1. Clemens made a nice catch of Bowcock's long fly to center. Pumphrey singled to left. Nickerson hit to Dee and both men were safe when Miller dropped Dee's throw. Clemens made another beautiful catch of Hickman's fly. Henderson caught Pumphrey off second for the third out. Miller making the putout.

Aubrey dropped a Texas leaguer to left field but he was out at second when DeGroff grounded to Sullivan. Magee doubled to left, DeGroff taking third. Halstein singled to right scoring DeGroff and Magee and went to third on Nickerson's wild peg to Hickman. Halstein was doubled between third and home when Miller hit to Sullivan. Miller took second while the put-out was being made.

Daly tripled to deep left field, scoring Miller. Dee fled out to Bowcock. Score: Lowell 2, Portland 1.

NAVAL BASE IN BERMUDA

Lieut. Gen. Bullock Depreciated Report

NEW YORK, Aug. 4.—Lieut. General Bullock, K. C. L., governor of Bermuda, who arrived here today on a vacation trip to the White mountains, deprecated the report that Great Britain is contemplating establishing a strong naval base in Bermuda.

"I think a great deal has been made out of small material," he said. "England has for a long time maintained a sort of naval base at Bermuda and often there are a number of small war craft there. Our real naval base is of course at Jamaica. It may be that the opening of the Panama canal will call for a coaling depot in Bermuda but the idea of a great naval base there is largely imagination. I fancy."

POLICE CLEAN UP DISORDERLY HOUSE

Conley declared that on several occasions he stood on guard for Frank when the latter was closeted in his office in a local factory with women. Frank, according to the negro's testimony, was accustomed to stamp on the floor when he desired Conley to keep watch. The negro testified that Mary Phagan went to Frank's office about noon on the day of her disappearance.

ACCEPTS AMBASSADOR

WILSON'S RESIGNATION

Minister to Mexico Relieved of His Duties by President—Resignation Effective October 14

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4.—President Wilson today accepted the resignation of Henry Lane Wilson as ambassador to Mexico. Secretary Bryan made the following statement: "Ambassador Wilson's resignation has been accepted to take effect Oct. 14. The part which he felt it his duty to take in the earlier stages of the recent revolution in Mexico would make it difficult for him to represent the views of the present administration in view of the situation which now exists."

SUSTAINED DEMURRERS

Of Boston Ice Co. and Independent Ice Co.

BOSTON, Aug. 4.—The demurrers of the Boston Ice Co. and the Independent Ice Co. to the bills in equity brought by James R. Corey and J. W. Ferris, former officers of the Independent Ice company who sought damages under the Sherman anti-trust act were sustained by Judge Dodge in the United States district court today.

The suits were started in March, 1912, and were based on the action of the Boston Ice Co. in obtaining control of the voting stock of the Independent company. The plaintiffs, who are minority stockholders, claimed that the acquisition of the Independent company was an attempt to form an unlawful monopoly and was an illegal conspiracy and combination in restraint of trade. They asked for three-fold damages.

Judge Dodge, in his opinion, stated that the minority stockholders had no remedy either by a suit at law or a bill in equity under the Sherman act as the corporation alone was entitled to maintain a law suit and no one but officers of the government were authorized to institute equity proceedings.

RIFLE AND REVOLVER

SHOTS AT CALUMET

CALUMET, Mich., Aug. 4.—Practically the entire strike zone in the copper country, echoed to rifle and revolver shots this morning. There were more than the usual number of "shadow shots" by sentries and an announced patrol of deputies for the night was blamed by troop commanders and union officials alike for the almost constant popping of revolvers that lasted from shortly after midnight to after daylight.

Despite the promiscuous firing no one was hit.

Additional union leaders arrived today in the persons of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Cannon of Los Angeles.

With the arrival of "Mother" Jones here tomorrow and other unionists en route there was every indication that the Western Federation was rallying its forces for one of the most determined struggles in union labor history.

The first attempt of resumption of active mining occurred at the E. J. shaft of the Champion mine, far out on the south range. It ended in flat failure when one man and a pumpman resumed work. Union pickets surrounded this man and became so energetic in their arguments that one of their leaders was arrested, charged with intimidation.

SEWER OUTLETS TO BE EXTENDED

In accordance with the recommendation of the state board of health relative to the extension of certain sewer outlets into the Merrimack river channel, the sewer department has two gangs of men at work on the extension of the Coburn and Fulton street sewers. When this work is completed, work will be rushed on the extension of the Fulton street sewer. Relative to the Fulton street sewer the report is as follows: "At Fulton street, on the north side of the river below West street, there is an outlet which discharges through a 18-inch cast iron pipe about 90 feet back from the water and creates a serious nuisance. The objectionable conditions at this outlet can be removed by extending the 15 inch sewer to a point about 115 feet from the present outlet, which would be about 50 feet from the present bank of the river at low water."

Relative to the Coburn street sewer, the report contains the following: At Coburn street, a short distance below Fulton street, there is a large brick sewer outlet, 26 by 30 inches in diameter, located at a point about 10 feet back from the edge of the river at low water, which creates a serious nuisance. The objectionable conditions at this outlet can be relieved by laying a pipe at least 12 inches in diameter from the present outlet to a point in the river 50 feet therefrom, where the depth of the water in dry weather is ordinarily about four feet. The pipe should be extended into the sewer for a distance of about six feet and a dam built at that point to divert the sewage into the pipe."

This is exactly what the employees of the sewer department are now doing, and as soon as they have completed that job, all hands will go to work on the extension of the Alken sewer.

NATIONAL GUARD CONTROLS TOWN

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Aug. 4.—With scenes of the rioting, left during the six companies of the National guard of California under command of Adjutant General Fortney, the town of Wheatland, Cal., was quiet yesterday of the killing of two men and the wounding of four others in a battle between a sheriff's posse and five hundred hop pickers, is today quiet and orderly.

Five hundred of the 700 hop pickers on the Hurst Bros. ranch, the town of Wheatland, Cal., were arrested here this morning.

A determined effort is being made to round up the leaders of the hop pickers and to place the responsibility for the killing of E. T. Mannwell, district attorney of Yuba county, and T. R. Rogers, a deputy sheriff. The other victims of the rioting were a negro and an unidentified young Englishman, hop pickers.

It is believed the militia will be withdrawn from Wheatland late today. All of the injured will recover.

LIVES 138 DAYS ON HULLED RICE

German Scientist Says Beri-beri is Disease Induced by Certain Foods—Other German Notes

BERLIN, Aug. 2.—Dr. Max Meszler, of Berlin, who has won distinction by his scientific researches in New Guinea, succeeded in giving himself an unmistakable case of beri-beri by living for 138 days upon a diet consisting almost exclusively of hulled rice. He believes his experiments support the theory formerly held by him, that beri-beri is a disease induced by certain foods not due to an infection of any kind from without, as has been maintained by many investigators.

Dr. Meszler, who in 1904 advanced his theory in an address before the Berlin Medical society, reported at the society's last meeting the results of the experiment which he has just finished. After a few weeks of hulled rice diet the nervous disturbances accompanying beri-beri appeared, and the case was then diagnosed as beri-beri by Dr. Schuller, the noted authority in this line. The typical atrophic affection of the skin followed, the tenderness of certain groups of muscles, stomache disturbances, and eventually the typical and dangerous irregularities of the heart action.

Dr. Meszler then treated himself with injections of an extract prepared from rice hulls. He recovered rapidly and is now quite well. Injections of this extract also cured pigeons and hens which had become affected with beri-beri after a hulled rice diet.

Dr. Meszler believes the hulled rice contains a poisonous substance which is neutralized when the hulls are eaten. Furthermore, the fact that the phosphorus content of rice lies entirely in the hull probably is of importance. He believes that beri-beri has a distinct relationship to scurvy and rickets.

Stop Swindling Game

The local police have put an end to a means of livelihood employed by an attractive woman of Berlin who dressed in widow's garb, gathered in considerable sums by a swindling game which had the merit of novelty and was based on a keen knowledge of human nature.

The woman's mode of operation was to station herself at a railway entrance, or before a post office, wait until a likely looking man came in sight, start hurriedly searching through her purse, and then cry out "I've been robbed!" Gallant males sympathizing with a woman in distress generally started a conversation.

In the course of the talk they learned that she was a widow and lived in Charlottenburg, a fashionable district of the greater city. She confided various troubles to her listener, whereof the chief one was that her eighteen-year-old daughter was difficult to manage and too fond of the society of men, although otherwise dutiful and loving daughter. The mother then suggested that a loan of $100 would save her interrupting her shopping tour. If her new friend lived anywhere in her neighborhood, he could take as security a new and expensive pair of shoes which she had just bought and carry them to her home, where her daughter would be glad to meet the trifling loan made to her mother.

According to the police, a large number of men, seeing an opportunity to become acquainted with a charming young woman who loved men's society, lent the distressed widow the sum demanded, took her to the bank and the box of shoes, and posted off to her home. Unable to find either home or daughter, they finally became suspicious and opened the shoe box. It contained half a brick and some wrapped paper.

The widow's downfall came when she inadvertently tried to play the same trick on the same man for the second time.

To Treat Cancer

Mesothorium, it appears from a report from Essen, runs radium a close race for value. The city council there has appropriated $5000 for the purchase of one of the new radium machines. It is to be used in the experimental treatment of cancer. Private subscribers have given a further $5000 or another tenth of a gram.

That the emperor and his guests on the Hohenzollern during the yearly cruises of His Majesty to Norwegian waters, were in the habit of abandoning themselves to a spirit of joviality, is evident from some extracts from the diary of the late Baron von Krielen-Waechter that are now being printed.

On Imperial Yacht

The diary of the Baron, who was at one time secretary of state for foreign affairs, gives among other things the "statutes of the Nordland Traveling Club" drawn up for one of the trips of about twenty years ago. The statutes declare that the company lives "partly on recollection and partly on preserves." At the head of the company stands the Most Illustrious Master Traveler, Kaiser Wilhelm the Second; the other members are classified as "Superior Journeyman Sailors." The statutes have chiefly to do with the evening assemblies on board the Imperial yacht. They provide, for instance, that Dr. Gusefeldt, one of the members of the company, shall each evening, but not before eleven o'clock, mount of rostrum to treat the company with his recollections, the latitude and longitude of which are to be determined beforehand by the "Navigation officer."

Another paragraph stipulates that "the famous firm of Hulsen, Kersell, Kiderlin & Company, dealers in Irish bulls, shall be responsible for having the state fakes replaced with new ones every month." Various penalties of an amusing character are provided for; but "if a journeyman sailor, sentenced to a just punishment, tries by means of persistent drinking to get himself into a state of alleviating circumstances, such action shall entail an increase of the sentence."

Students Drink too Much

The emperor, who is well known to be very astute in all things, thinks that German university students drink too much. A sentence providing this was used by him while reviewing the students' baggage during his jubilee week. His majesty on this occasion made it a point to reduce the consumption of alcohol to a "moderate degree."

The emperor issued a similar warning to the naval cadets of the Empire in a speech which he made at Kiel some time ago, and he has several times declared that more athletics and less beer would improve the good physical standing, however, the emperors' beer drinking is, as an incident of every student celebration, the fact may be mentioned that the emperor's beer for each student was paid for from the funds of the Imperial city of Berlin on the occasion of the jubilee "kommande."

RUSSIANS INDIGNANT

Visitors to Boston Refuse to Attend Dinner

BOSTON, Aug. 4.—Humiliated by the treatment they had received—or perhaps had rather failed to receive—at the hands of their hosts, the city of Boston and the Boston representative of the Imperial Russian government, members of the party of Russian educators gathered in the office of the Hotel Langham last evening, held an informal but vigorous indignation meeting and finally refused to go to a dinner which the mayor's office had ordered for them at the Copple-Plaza.

The Russians, men and women alike, were deeply disappointed and much grieved at the embarrassing situation in which they were placed, but despite their feelings they were charitable enough to regard the whole trouble as a blunder on some one's part. Yet they said plainly that they were amazed, hurt, and in no little measure put out by the lack of attention. They refused to blame any one specifically, but were highly indignant and pretty "sour" at the city officials and Russian representative collectively.

Boris Marchess, who is in charge of the party, half of which left Boston last evening for New York, did his best to rectify what at first all the members of the party thought was a small error. He was unable, however, to communicate with Mayor Fitzgerald, who was in New Hampshire, and could not find Joseph Conry, Russia's vice consul, he said. No representative of the mayor's office or of Mr. Conry had made any attempt to see any of the visitors during the day, so far as Mr. Marchess was able to ascertain.

The party was a very representative one, including prominent educators and officials of the Russian government.

K. OF C. CONVENTION

Will be Opened in Boston Tomorrow

BOSTON, Aug. 4.—Supreme Knight James A. Flaherty of Philadelphia, head of the Knights of Columbus, spoke in warm approval last evening of the local program for the supreme convention of the order in this city this week. Louis Watson, the state deputy, was credited with consummate executive ability in securing such an extensive co-operation of the city and the business houses.

"There is not much doubt," he added, "that the convention which opens here Tuesday will eclipse all its predecessors and establish a basis for others to follow in the future. All the visitors I have met have been enthusiastic in their praise of the work accomplished."

The supreme knight is at the Hotel Somerset, the headquarters of the convention, with practically all the supreme officers and directors.

Reception Arrangement

Increasing trains yesterday brought delegates from the west, south and middle Atlantic states, but the greater number are expected to pour into the city today. At the North and South stations information booths have been established, from which competent guides will escort visitors to their hotels or to the registration headquarters in the lobby of the Colonial theatre on Boylston street.

The reception committee has booked several thousands of visitors at the local hotels and as soon as they have registered they will find rooms awaiting them. John E. Riley of Dorchester, the chairman of the reception committee, and James J. Nolan, the hotel chairman, have worked out the details of housing the visitors.

Parade to the Hall

Moran's building has been made a scene of beauty with elaborate bunting and electrical effects for the fourth-degree ceremony as well as for the grand promenade and ball on Wednesday evening.

MAN HIT BY TRAIN

Dies As Result of Injuries Received—He Was Walking on the Trestle Over Hale's Brook

Thomas Witherhead, of Manchester street, was struck by a train on the trestle over Hale's brook, near the Harvard brewery, early Sunday morning, and died a few hours later at St. John's hospital.

According to a man named Zink, who was with Witherhead when the accident occurred, the two were walking on the trestle across the bridge over Hale's brook, when suddenly a freight train came upon them. Zink managed to get out of the way in time, but Witherhead was struck and fell beneath the wheels.

The injured man was removed to the Chelmsford Street hospital, where Dr. M. A. Tighe, city physician, deemed it advisable that an operation be performed. Inasmuch as the necessary instruments could not be obtained at the institution the man was removed to St. John's hospital, where the physicians worked over him for some time, but their efforts to save his life were fruitless. Zink, in his hurry to get assistance for his injured partner, ran into a barbed wire fence, and badly lacerated his face.

SET FIRE AFTER ROBBERY

Chelsea Home Destroyed—$500 Stolen

BOSTON, Aug. 4.—The 2 1-2 story wooden dwelling house of Franklin Hirschman at 129 Franklin avenue, Chelsea, in one of the best residential sections of the city, was set on fire early yesterday morning. It is asserted by the occupants, by a thief or robbers who applied the torch after stealing jewelry, silverware and linen valued at more than $500.

The police and firemen say it was the most daring attempt to destroy a building by fire that has ever come to their attention and they are determined to investigate the matter to the bitter end. The state police will be called to help out.

Fire was started in two places in the kitchen. Clothes of all kinds were found scattered about the rooms on the first floor saturated with kerosene, while on the second floor every room and closet was divested of clothing and other material and scattered about the floors so as to make easy prey for the fire.

In a small hallway on the first floor, the police also found a quantity of oil-soaked clothing, some of which was partially burned before the arrival of the firemen.

In a chamber on the second floor was a small safe used by Mr. Hirschman mostly for business purposes. This was turned upside down and the pins taken from the hinges. Mrs. Hirschman said yesterday that some jewelry and valuable papers had been taken from the safe.

The timely discovery of the fire by a neighbor prevented the destruction of the building and undoubtedly that of other dwellings, as if the fire had attained much more headway, the firemen believe there would have been a loss of many houses and lives.

Before the blaze had been extinguished there was a damage to the building of $250 and the contents were damaged $50.

MAN SHOULD NOT SHAVE

Is Belief of Flying Rollers,
New Cult

BOSTON, Aug. 4.—Bearded and with their hair flowing down their shoulders, the Flying Rollers made their advent into Malden's religious group yesterday.

In a vacant lot, not yet selected, the rollers intend pitching a tent and from it direct their attacks upon sin and wickedness in general. They believe that man should not shave or cut his hair. Also tattooed are forbidden to partake of their ceremony, while one of the strongest tenets is not to have their pictures taken.

Brother Lucien L. Pingree came as the advance guard of the Flying Rollers yesterday. The cult has been purging Everett of its sins, according to Brother Pingree, and having met with marked success, is moving on to open new fields. He said that it was the intention of the rollers to pitch camp at Narragansett Pier and Newport on their rounds. Their doctrine is contained in the "Flying Roll" whose dictates declare that the resurrection is coming soon.

"The end of the world is nigh," stated Brother Pingree yesterday. "It may come tomorrow, but not later than 1920. It is probably much nearer than that."

FIRE AT WATERTOWN

Three Story Building
Destroyed

WATERTOWN, Me., Aug. 4.—A loss of $30,000 was caused early yesterday by a fire in the department store of the DeGruchy company. The blaze is believed to have started in the basement near a motor that operated the cash system. It spread rapidly through the three-story brick building.

The DeGruchy company's loss is estimated at $30,000. The damage to the building, which is owned by Dr. C. G. Hancock, is estimated at $10,000; while the Walker Clothing company sustained a $5000 loss. Mrs. Emily Planted and W. R. Jones, a druggist, suffered small losses.

KILLED WHEN
BOILER BLEW UPHot Air Explosion In Brockton Kills Owner of Turkish BathRescuers Were Driven Back by Terrific Heat;
Property Loss $2500

BROCKTON, Aug. 4.—Blinded by a hot air explosion from the boiler of the Turkish bath at 22 Plymouth street, which he had just purchased, Louis Minski, 31, wandered into the flames which followed the blast and was burned to death yesterday afternoon. Several men who attempted his rescue were driven back by the flames, burned and half suffocated in their efforts.

Forced Back by Heat

Once Peter O'Brien, brother of Buck O'Brien of the Chicago White Sox team, came within an arm's length of the wounded man, only to be forced to safety by the terrific heat, with his face deeply burned.

The explosion of the boiler broke every window in the building and hurled people in neighboring houses from their seats. Fire started immediately after the men who had remained to do the work of rescue fled for their lives.

Minski bought the bath Saturday. He sent his family away for a vacation. Yesterday afternoon, while several friends were waiting in the apartments of the bath, he went to the basement to start his fires. The bathrooms are on the first floor. Minski had purchased the building and his household apartments were on the second floor.

To induce the fire to start more quickly he threw into the fire boxes some kerosene oil. The flames from the oil blew backward, igniting Minski's clothes. He jumped away from the fire box and started to extinguish the flames and had succeeded. Just then, the boiler exploded, probably from not being properly supplied with water.

The crash of the exploding boiler hurled the men in the bath apartments to the floor. They rushed immediately to the boiler rooms, in which were a quantity of wood work all aflame.

They saw Minski propping about, his face mutilated and walking directly into the center of the flaming cellar. The lurid glare of the fire showed them that the man was in a perilous position. They rushed to his aid, but the flames were too strong. Minski was rescued by the fire department, but he was too badly burned to survive.

Following the explosion people in the vicinity sent in alarms to the fire station, and the arriving firemen also tried to find the body of Minski, but he had been taken to the hospital. The fire department was forced to leave the bath, so quickly did the flames spread. His knee was injured when he fell.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Cielma, who live at 20 Plymouth place, near the bath, were hurled from their seats at their dinner table by the force of the explosion.

The fire damage is estimated at $2500. From the ruins the charred body of Minski was recovered.

PUT OUT OF CHURCH

Militants Sang "Save Emmeline Pankhurst"

LONDON, Aug. 4.—A party of 40 well dressed suffragettes interrupted the morning service at St. Paul's Cathedral yesterday by chanting a prayer in behalf of Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst.

Ushers ejected the women from the edifice after a scuffle in which several chairs were upset.

Burlesque Litany

The disturbance took place during the singing of the Litany. The women, who had front seats in the centre aisle, chanted loudly:

"Save Emmeline Pankhurst!
"Spare her, spare her!
"Give her light and set her free!
"Save her, save her!"

"Hear us while we pray to Thee."
Evidently the chant had been carefully rehearsed. It was in the same tune that the choir had been singing.

When the women began their chant ushers rushed toward them from all parts of the cathedral, while numerous members of the congregation remained with the disturbers, telling them to remember that they were in church.

The suffragettes, however, repeated their chant three or four times, each time in a louder tone. A majority of them were finally led out quietly by the ushers but a half dozen or so clung to their chairs and fought against ejection. When all the disturbers were removed from the building, the services proceeded.

A squad of police was in attendance at yeppers last evening but there was no disturbance.

Stubbish Blaze

The Methuen fire department was kept busy Sunday afternoon by a brush fire on the 20 acre Kennebec lot on Washington street near the Haymarket line. The department was called out at 11 o'clock in the morning and did not stop until the blaze which had not started until 5 o'clock in the afternoon. The blaze was a stubbish one and most of the 20 acre wood lot was burned over before the flames were finally controlled.

A DANGEROUS JOKE

Canoeists Play Hoax on Rescuers

BOSTON, Aug. 4.—Hundreds of canoeists and spectators along the banks of the Charles river, West Roxbury, yesterday afternoon were startled by the sight of a canoe toppling over in the middle of the stream and with its occupants, two young men, headlong into the water. The two were straight down and down until they were almost lost to sight. All the nearby canoeists hurriedly paddled over the spot where they had sunk beneath the surface, and several of the bolder men were already peeling off their coats and preparing to dive to the rescue of the young men.

Suddenly both came to the surface in the midst of a cluster of canoes and willing hands were reached out to pull them to safety. Both of the men were headlong yelling for help at the top of their voices and declaring that they would certainly be drowned.

Just as they were about to sink for the second time they were dragged up the sides of a canoe by two men. Exhausted by their struggles in the water their bodies were a dead weight to their timely rescuers, who with great difficulty succeeded in pulling them into the canoe.

The men sank down in the bottom of the canoe. First aid treatment was applied and they were gradually brought to consciousness. With a heavy throb in their eyes they professedly thanked their rescuers, then standing up in the canoe, waved their hands at the crowd and dove off into the water, to the surprise and horror of the crowd, who imagined that the men had gone out of their minds as a result of their harrowing experience they had undergone, and many a canoeist was poised in the edge of the canoe prepared to dive in after them the moment they came to the surface.

To the astonishment of all, the young men soon came into sight again, grinning with mischievous glee from ear to ear, and with the strong, steady strokes which marked them as expert swimmers, quickly made their way up stream to avoid the pursuing string of canoes, whose occupants had at last become aware that a hoax had been played on them. The young men swam to shore and escaped the vengeance of the onrushing hoards by concealing themselves in the labyrinth of bushes which line the shore.

MISSING JEWELS

Mrs. Hannah Pines No Credence in Report That Gems Had Been Found in Boston

NARRAGANSETT PIER, R. I., Aug. 4.—Mrs. John H. Hanan said yesterday that she placed no credence in the published report that her missing jewels had been found in the safe of a Boston brokerage house, and that they had been pledged to secure a loan of $50,000.

"I do not understand how the jewels could have been pledged," said Mrs. Hanan, "unless it is the work of the thieves. I think that it is just another of the many hoaxes started by those 'mysterious detectives'."

Mr. Goldwater, chief of the detectives employed by Mrs. Hanan to find her missing valuables, reported to her yesterday that there were no new developments in the matter.

John H. Hanan, who is ill, has been kept in ignorance of the loss of his wife's jewels, but yesterday his condition has improved so greatly that Mrs. Hanan thought it safe to impart the news to him. She said that he was not greatly concerned, expressing his regret only over the annoyance which the situation had caused her.

SAVES MAN
AND WOMANFifteen Year Old Boy
Rescues Couple From DrowningRow Boat Capsized and Occupants Pulled Out
After a Hard Struggle

BOSTON, Aug. 4.—John J. O'Hare, Jr., a 15-year-old boy residing at Fenwood road, Roxbury, yesterday saved a man and a woman from drowning. The latter were attempting to land on the wharf at Peabody's Island when the small row boat in which they were riding capsized. The rescued refused to make known their names and after thanking the boy made for home in their wet garments.

The rescue took place early in the afternoon. Young O'Hare, with his uncle, Harry O'Hare, of South Boston, had drawn up their motor boat Usual by the wharf and were working about the boat. They noticed a man and a woman jump from the sloop Albra, which was anchored nearby, into a light tender.

The tender had proceeded within a few yards of the raft when it capsized. Seeing that neither could swim, and were fast sinking, young O'Hare jumped to the rescue. He succeeded in bringing the woman to the raft. The boy's uncle in the meantime had attempted to grasp the man. He failed to secure a firm enough hold and the man disappeared beneath the surface.

O'Hare, seeing the predicament called to his uncle to assist him in pulling the woman aboard the raft, and after this had been completed the youth dove into the water and succeeded in bringing the drowning man to the surface. With the assistance of his uncle the man was pulled aboard the raft, where first aid treatment quickly restored him to consciousness.

SENATORS REMONSTRATE

Sec. Garrison's Order on
Army Officers

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4.—Senators and representatives are showing a disposition to represent Secretary Garrison's enforcement of the order prohibiting their intervention in favor of promotions for army officers. The secretary adopted the policy of writing each congressional advocate of promotions, saying the communication was not received with approval and made it necessary to ask the officer concerned if he was in any way responsible for the intervention in his behalf. The letters are said to have confined in identical phraseology over the signature of the acting secretary of war since Mr. Garrison's departure on his inspection tour of army posts. The latest remonstrant is Senator John Sharp Williams of Mississippi, who replying to the acting secretary said: "Your letter with the enclosed circular, which you send me, is at hand. Where officers are confirmed by the senate it is made a part of the constitutional duty of the senator to advise as well as consent. These officers are appointed not only with the consent but advice of the senator. Therefore the right of a senator to advise a department concerning any executive, military or naval officer whose appointment depends on confirmation by the senate is constitutional and cannot be thrust aside by any executive order."

Woman Is As Old As She Looks

No woman wants to look old. Many in their effort to look youthful resort to the "beauty doctor's" prescriptions. Their mistake is that they visit the wrong department in the drug store.
Wrinkles, sleepless nights, headaches, pains, disorders, irregularities and weakness of a distinctly feminine character in a short time bring the girl over the "cross" test; the haggard look, drooping shoulders, and the falling hair.
To retain the appearance of youth you must retain health. Instead of lotions, powders and paints, ask your druggist for

Some Persons
"Flinch"
When Truth
Hunts Them

"If any man is able to convince me and show me that I do not think or act right, I will gladly change, for I seek the truth, by which no man was ever injured."—Marcus Aurelius, Roman Emperor.

Some shrink and try to close their eyes and ears to the haunting fact that the little 2 1-2 grains of Caffeine in every average cup of coffee is the demon which relentlessly pursues and starts various ailments, such as biliousness, headache, nervousness, sleeplessness, bowel trouble, heart failure and a long string of aches and ills, taking one form in one person and another in another.

The effect of repeated doses of coffee, on those who are susceptible to caffeine poisoning, is so complex that it is difficult to foretell where its hurt will be most serious; in Heart, Head, Eyes, Nerves or where.

The stroke of trouble will come somewhere if the daily doses are persisted in.

Of course if anyone prefers to treat his body in that way it is useless to suggest relief.

Let him "follow the trail" until badly wounded.

Some go so far they can't get back to health. Others quit the foolish, losing game before fixed chronic disease sets in.

There is a mighty army of sensible ones, however, who have bravely tested the truth with their own bodies to see whether or not it was the truth that coffee caused their ailments.

It's an easy test. Quit coffee absolutely for 10 days. Take Postum hot and well-made and keep track of the change toward health day by day.

It's the most exquisite pleasure in the world to be perfectly well with all the delicate and beautifully adjusted machinery of the body working in harmony, not interfered with by drugs, one of the most insidious and deceptive of which is caffeine in coffee.

This is Truth.

Meet it bravely with head up, and a hearty handclasp.

Truth thus made welcome will prove your best friend.

These are facts without regard to our own opinion, or to whether or not you use Postum.

However it is well to consider that famous food-drink because it supplies a hot beverage of the deep seal-brown color of coffee, which turns to the rich golden-brown when cream is added.

It has a snappy flavor much like the old-time real Java, but there is no "sting" in it, no caffeine or other drug of any sort. It is skilfully manufactured of wheat and a trace of New Orleans molasses.

It comes in two forms. One called Regular Postum, must be boiled full 15 minutes.

The other, Instant Postum, is in powder form and a level teaspoonful in a cup of hot water makes the beverage instantly. Grocers keep both kinds.

"THERE'S A REASON" FOR

ANNUAL LAWN PARTY THREW ACID IN HER FACE

At Tewksbury Novitiate Was Big Success

The second annual lawn party and field day held last Saturday under the auspices of the parishioners of Tewksbury and the Silver Lake campers was a great success, nearly 2000 people visiting the grounds during the day.

The feature of the day was the entertainment furnished by the crews of the U. S. S. Virginia and U. S. S. Nebraska. The boys from the navy demonstrated that they possessed considerable athletic ability and they also furnished a musical entertainment which greatly amused the crowd of 2000 spectators.

Much credit for the success of the affair is due to the efforts of Hon. Charles S. Sullivan of Charlestown who through his influence secured the sailors to take part in the entertainment.

The program opened in the morning with a baseball game between teams representing the Silver Lake Campers and the Novitiate. The latter winning by the score of 4 to 1.

At 11:30 a. m. the following list of track events for boys under 12 years of age was run off, with the following results:

Baseball game: Won by John Fitzgerald and William Nolan, two boxes of candy; second, John Donnelly and William Mahoney.

Sack race: Won by William Nolan, baseball bat; second, William Mahoney, baseball glove.

50 yards dash: Won by Miss Lucy Clancy, set of Japanese bells; second, Miss Margaret Walsh, doll.

Potato race: Won by Miss Annie Carter, curling iron; second, Miss Mary Clancy, sewing set.

The next event on the program was a baseball game between the Silver Lake Campers and the Novitiate. The latter winning by the score of 5 to 4.

HAD GOOD DUTING

Lincoln A. C. Members Enjoyed Themself at Revere Beach and Boat Poling

The Lincoln A. C. about forty strong, enjoyed their annual outing to Revere beach and boat poling yesterday and the affair was one of the most enjoyable ever held under the auspices of this society.

The trip was made in the automobile truck of Jesse Tuill, which was decorated with club pennants. The ride over the 35 miles between this city and Bass Point was full of fun and everybody enjoyed it.

Arriving at the beach the party topped up and down the sea shore until dinner was ready at "Jims" Gordon's dining room. After partaking of a delicious dinner the truck was again boarded and all were off for Revere beach. Arriving there the greater number of the party made for the salt water and the day was first class for a swim. Some of the boys were experts along this line and took great delight in teaching the Boston girls to swim over the boys started to enjoy themselves at the different amusement places along the beach and none were omitted that would afford enjoyment to the picnickers.

Luncheon was enjoyed at the beach in the evening, then the party cheerfully hopped on the truck bound for this city. However, the ride home was no less full of pleasure than the one in the morning and it was a merry crowd that passed through the square toward Chelmsford street at a late hour last night.

DIED ON TROLLEY CAR

NEW YORK, Aug. 4.—A young and well dressed man swung aboard a trolley car in Newark last evening and for a brief time sat in a rear seat, then got up and moved forward in the car where the wind swept in refreshingly through the open door.

"He leaned forward, resting his arm on the back of the seat in front of him and then rested his forehead on his arm. The other hand he clasped against the side of his face. When the conductor, John Manning, approached to collect his fare the passenger gave him no heed.

Manning called out "Fare, please!" The man still remained motionless. Then Manning shook the man. The arm, released from the pressure of the passenger's head, suddenly flew out and struck the conductor full in the face.

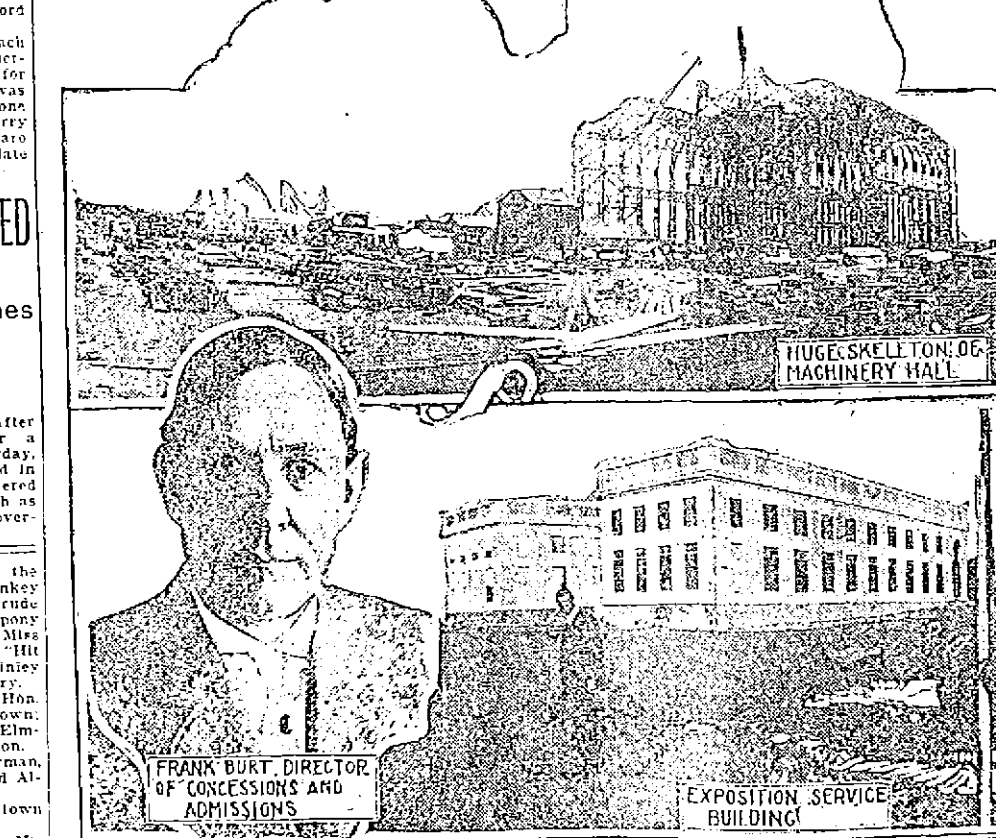

Manning, indignant, reached for the seated man to eject him from the car, but the hand he put forward stopped short. For the head of the man in the seat was lolled queerly forward on his breast and Manning saw that his eyes were staring.

"Why, the man is dead!" said another passenger, and several women passengers, hearing it, became hysterical. As the car on its journey to Hackensack was passing through Kearney, the conductor stopped it in front of the home of Dr. George Marks. The physician said the man was dead, and from a superficial examination thought heart disease had killed him.

The body was removed to the Kearny morgue, and through papers in the pockets the man was identified as John Lentz, twenty-eight years old, a well-to-do business man of East Rutherford. He had just established a home of his own in Prospect place, Rutherford, where a few weeks ago he took a bride.

Work is being pushed in all departments.

MULHALL AGAIN ON THE STAND

Lobbyist Called to Identify $500 Check He Said He Drew to Turn Over to Cong. Watson

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4.—Martin Mulhall took the witness stand to identify a $500 check he said he drew April 19, 1913, to be turned over to H. A. Miles of Racine, Wis., for a retainer for congressman J. E. Watson when the manufacturers wanted Watson to work for a tariff commission bill.

Chairman Overman announced that former Senator Overman would be heard tomorrow. Mulhall produced a letter from Secretary Wilson written in December, 1909, while chairman of the house labor committee, declining an offer of the Mulhall correspondence. In it he spoke of Mulhall's demand that he be protected for a year, which he interpreted as a "request for a job." Wilson declined the offer with thanks.

When the house committee begins its hearings tomorrow Louis Seibold of the New York World will be the first witness to lay the foundation for the extension of Mulhall which will follow immediately. The time that Col. Mulhall is on the stand will be devoted largely to cross examination, the committee decided today.

CLEAN UP DISORDERLY HOUSE

ton life. Both pleaded guilty to the charge and were ordered to be committed to the state farm. Although no specific length of stay was handed down by Judge Enright, they will undoubtedly serve out the full maximum penalty, six months.

The other two, a married couple, the man at first gave his name as Brown but later said that he was Milados Kutsumkos. He married last April, with whom he was arrested, last morning was one of the most shocking revelations that the police have had called to their attention in years.

The woman was placed upon the stand and told the entire story which runs the gamut of her married life. For four months her husband has been making her stoop to the most nefarious practices which the courts have to deal with. Throughout her trial today her face continually twitched and her hands and arms jerked from the horrible strain to which she has been subjected during the past few months. Her case was continued until tomorrow when her husband's case was held over until Thursday.

Henry Wasn't Drunk
Henry W. Downey, charged with drunkenness, when asked why he was guilty, declared that he was not drunk. "I was only a little bit tipsy," he said. "I had a little beer but I hardly calculate I was drunk." Henry made a hit with the vendors of wet goods Saturday it seems from the testimony of his sister-in-law and aside from that refused to take care of his wife and eight children. His wife is in very poor health just at present and she has been told that fact is not enough to keep the defendant sober. He was so drunk Saturday that when the doctor came to the house he tried to send him out for a pill of beer. His case was continued until Wednesday in order to give the alcohol in his system a chance to evaporate.

Ungrateful Act
Edward Chryslay gave an illustration of how mean a man can be when he stole a watch, chain and charm from Henry Deneault, a man who befriended him and took him into his own room when his family had turned him away from home. He was given a two months' sentence to jail when he pleaded guilty this morning.

Mary E. White received a thirty day sentence to jail for over indulgence in the drinking bowl. James Hennessy was let off with a fine of $15 for his fourth arrest for drunkenness within the year.

Stanislav Cordack started a little trouble up around Officer Sheridan's way yesterday but failed to get away with it. He was fined $10 for his fun. John Sullivan, arrested by Officer Clark, was charged with drunkenness and his wife also said that he abused her. She testified that he kicked her several times Saturday. It was his first offense for drunkenness for which he was fined $2 but he was also put under bonds to keep the peace.

Peter Lambrosco was another trouble maker who wanted to pick a fight when fairly well under the influence of liquor Saturday night. Peter was requested to hand over ten shillings for his little war talk.

John J. Fox, an old offender, wanted the court to send him to Foxboro so that he might take the cure for drinkardism instead of being sent to jail for the state farm. His case was continued in order to find out from the officials at that place whether they can accommodate John.

Stanley Kopsky and Daniel Mulachay were both fined $5 for their second lapse into intoxication within the year. John B. Bowser got the usual Sunday fine for the same offense $5. There were two first offenders and five releases by the probation officer.

Fell from Motorcycle
Joseph Lemay of 436 Raymond street, Manchester, received a bad fall from his motorcycle yesterday afternoon, when he was speeding his machine along the boulevard. The accident occurred at a point just opposite the pumping station. As a result Lemay is lying at the Lowell hospital today with a fractured arm and leg. His injuries are not considered dangerous, however.

THE SOUTH AMERICAN TOUR

No industrial movement of recent years has been more widely advertised or more generally commented on than the South American tour of the Boston chamber of commerce. When the progressive organization was striving to arouse sentiment in favor of it, and striving to get as large a body of business men as possible interested, the claims made in its favor were most convincing. While possessing all the vacation features of an unusual and memorable pleasure trip, its primary object was trade expansion. Whether it achieved this object or not, time will tell. Since the delegates returned from their wonderful tour in seven of the most important countries of Latin America, they have expressed their admiration repeatedly for all they saw, and the unfailing courtesy with which they were received.

The business men who carried the name of Boston through the civic boulevards, Panama, Peru, Bolivia, Chile, Argentina, Uruguay and Brazil, were really delegates and ambassadors from the trade of America generally, and Boston directly. Whether studying the politics, industries or social conditions of the great rich countries of the south, exchanging courtesies at formal banquets, or advertising their home opportunities for commerce, these men were never dissociated from the practical side of their visit. They were no mere body of tourists but serious men meeting men who were just as serious. Considering the fact that the greatest bar to our trade expansion in the south is a superficial and removable misunderstanding and racial animosity, there is no better preparation for improved conditions than the feeling of brotherhood and humanity that trips such as that of the Boston chamber of congress tend to promote.

The Boston tour was only a preparation, an "entering wedge." Effort must not stop because of it. Other cities are now reported as being about to follow suit. It remains for the representatives of business here to get in closer touch with representatives of the trade of South America. Both countries can benefit by better trade relations. It is regrettable that man has erected barriers which nature has not imposed between the peoples of this great continent and it is time that they were removed. When we are seriously contemplating means to extend our trade with China and Japan, and when European countries are capturing the enormous business of South America under our noses, is it not time that we get into closer relationship with our southern neighbors to our mutual benefit?

THE BUSINESS SITUATION

When measures that have a direct bearing on business are pending there is a widespread tendency among the people—fomented by some politicians—to attribute any unusual condition to the coming laws. This is especially true at the present time when the tariff bill is under discussion. Those who are opposed to it are not at all too particular about establishing the proper relation between cause and effect, but seize upon every temporary depression of transitory disarrangement and use it for an argument against tariff revision. Unfortunately there is always an ultra nervous element among the people which refuses to make its own investigation and blindly accepts the dismal views of those who are interested in creating a nation wide attitude of gloom.

At the present time business in general is quiet. At this time last year and the year before and for several years previously business was quiet. Surely the tariff did not impose the depression on the country all these years. Business is now quiet for the same reason that it always has been quiet—owing to the natural mid-summer dullness. It will not do in this case to over estimate the least sign of an unfavorable factor. The diminishing trade reports do not show any greater proportionate drop than we have been always accustomed to. The vacation season is on in full swing; people have done all of their summer buying; merchants are holding off on their fall purchases in hopes of getting better trade after the passage of tariff revision. General trade is perfectly healthy, there is a strong optimism among business men as to the future, and the crop outlook presages a coming season of very unusual prosperity.

The only troubles in business at the present time on the pending tariff revision are due to its delay. As the Journal of Commerce says: "It is not what is going to happen that causes the trouble but what is happening in sheer procrastination. It ought to be understood at Washington that there is no political capital to be made by a long drawn out debate and the therefore repetition of familiar arguments. The party responsible for it will lose ground by trying the public patience. What the people want now is not defeat of the tariff bill, but prompt action upon it."

NEW CHILD LABOR LAW

The new child labor law goes into effect in September, and mill owners and school authorities will be confronted with no light task if its provisions are to be universally enforced throughout the state. The Brockton Enterprise, referring to some editorial comment on this question points out that the greatest difficulty in enforcing the new law will come from parents who have financial reasons for sending their children to work and these children who prefer work to school. Unfortunately we all know from experience that the number of these parents who make financial gain their first consideration and children who welcome anything to escape school discipline is by no means small.

The fact that there are some parents and children, however, who utterly disregard the child labor law, should not excuse the employers of labor any longer. There are higher considerations at stake than the feeling of the individual; one cannot justify having inflicted injury on another at the other's request. Children are no judges of what is for their good, and there is scarcely one who leaves school early who does not regret his action in later life. On the other hand, those heartless parents who have so little regard for the health of character of their children as to commercialize their puny efforts in any of the prohibited occupations, are guilty of a grave offense against the moral as well as the state law. They ought to be forced to respect the terms of the new regulation, and employers of labor are the logical people to teach them a much needed lesson in humanity. Those who so teach the parents of this state will do a vast amount of general good and will also protect themselves from the penalty which the new child labor law provides for those who offend against its wise and humanitarian provisions.

INSULTING THE FLAG

Recently there have been several instances of insult offered to the American flag, some in the troubled sections of the revolutionary south and some in Canada. The latest of such indignities happened in Saskatoon, Sask., on Friday last when a bugler of a Canadian regiment snatched an American flag from a young woman who sat in an automobile waving it during a street parade. The patriotic Canadian "soldier of the king" not satisfied with tearing down the American emblem, threw it on the street and trampled on it. Newspaper reports say that the whole regiment marched over it.

All sensible people whether they are Americans or Canadians will regret this incident. Many will regret it. There is some subtle and reverential national essence hidden in the folds of the flags of all nations which flags the blood of their peoples when flags are insulted. At such times they are apt to see only the incident of desecration and do not reason as to the causes for the outrage or the place to lay the real responsibility. In this Canadian incident we cannot excuse the act of the hostile bugler, but, in justice to him, we ought to reverse the case mentally, and apply its lessons without prejudice. If, in Boston or Lowell, when some patriotic celebration was going on and soldiers were marching by, a young lady of decidedly English sentiment leaned from an automobile waving a Union Jack, we would not be altogether displeased with one of our soldiers if he acted in the same manner as the Canadian. The soldier is to be blamed assuredly, but so is the foolish lady who made a foolish display of her Americanism at the wrong time.

In our arrogance and self-assertive patriotism we sometimes offend against international ethics. So do a section of all peoples. There are none so anxious to declare their preference for a foreign country as those who have deliberately turned their backs on that country to seek the better opportunities here. But when we offend the susceptibilities of other nationalities we cannot complain too strongly if they show their dislike by some regrettable outbreak, such as the Canadian occurrence.

ST. LOUIS DOCTOR ALWAYS PRESCRIBES COMFORT POWDER

"I have used and prescribed Comfort Powder a great deal and am more than pleased with it. For chafing of children, infants and delicate skinned people it is soothing and healing and it is free from any of the irritants I have under my care at the present time. Two cases of severe burns where Comfort Powder is doing admirable service, and I can also recommend it for use after shaving."

This is only one more proof that Comfort Powder is a skin healing powder. Be sure you get the genuine with the signature of E. S. Sykes on the box.

Seen and Heard

Morris McDonald has been so busy in the past few years learning how to be an efficient railroad man, that he has allowed himself to remain absolutely ignorant of the salaries paid newspaper men. Mr. McDonald is now living at the Touraine in Boston, attempting to meet a reporter whom he knew in the office he smiled and said: "And do you live here?" "No, sir," stammered the reporter.

The systematic training of thieves is a new thing, and again had many prototypes long before Dickens introduced him to the public through the story of the adventures of Oliver Twist. In the olden days, before pockets were invented, the purse containing money and other valuables, before worn at the side, became a much coveted prize for the dishonest, who managed to obtain possession of it by deftly cutting the strings by which it was suspended. The thieves of London long enjoyed the reputation of being expert lock-pickers in the art of stealing. Such dexterity, however, is not to be wondered at, seeing that the street-thieves of the period were regularly trained to their profession. In 1855, a person named Watson kept an academy for the education of pickpockets.

Perhaps the most noted pickpocket was a woman known as Moll Cut-throat, who was born in 1835. She usually wore male attire, and became an adept fence and a bold rider, and in the character of highwayman robbed General Fairfax of 200 pounds on Thetford Heath. She used to work in company with two other thieves, just as pickpockets do now. Moll became quite a noted character, and established herself in Fleet street as a broker and negotiator between thieves and the public. At one time she was worth quite a small fortune, but her generosity for her distressed colleagues left her little more than one hundred pounds at her death.

Carter Glass, representative in congress from the sixth district of Virginia, had his picture taken in his office not long ago. While the photographer was arranging his camera Mr. Glass remarked that he hoped the picture wouldn't flatter him too much. "I had some taken once," he said, "to give to my friends. One I gave to a neighbor down in Lynchburg, who placed it on the mantelpiece in the parlor."

"Not long after it had been placed there, Aunt Hannah, an old colored woman, who had known me since I was a boy, was called in to help with the housecleaning. She was working away in the parlor when the mistress of the house came in to see how the work was progressing."

"Aunt Hannah, resting on her broom, pointed toward the picture on the mantle and asked: 'Missus, who am de gemman in de phootur?'"

"The lady replied that it was Mr. Glass."

"Does you mean Marce Catiah Glass?" inquired the old woman.

"Yes, of course," replied her mistress.

"Well, fo' de lan sake!" exclaimed Aunt Hannah, "Ah, cusses Ah, never seen dat side of his face before!"

By this time the camera man had his apparatus arranged and the pictures were quickly made, when the finished product came to the office. Mr. Glass glanced at them hastily and hurried down the hall to show them to his colleague, Representative Jones. Mr. Jones looked them over carefully, but passed no comment.

"What's the matter? Don't you like them?" inquired Glass.

"Why yes, I like them," replied Jones, "but who sat for them?"—Washington Star.

SONGS IN THE NIGHT
To catch in the hour of darkness
Some gleams of eternal light,
To cheer some heart in the shadows,
To tell that the darkest night
Precedes the rosiest hour
That the amber and gold of cloudland
Return with the sunburst of dawn;
To learn in the world's great school-room
The lessons the Master will give
Of fortitude, faith and patience
He teaches His scholars to live;
To believe in eternal goodness,
That infinite love redeems
Greater than all the evil
That on the earth abounds;
This is the song in the night time,
The bursting of prison chains,
That solves the mystery of suffering,
That cheers in the midst of pains,
Songs in the night God giveth,
To lift us to His prophet of old,
Through tears we behold the vision,
While the heavenly armies enfold.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

The Two Willsons

Salem News: It is evident that the two Willsons are quite apart in their conclusions regarding the situation in Mexico, and the occupants of the White House is naturally the one whose opinion will prevail.

Eugenics

Lynn Telegram: Our ancestors managed to get along pretty well before the eugenic theory was sprung on the fad-loving public and we have managed to scrape along the road of life without engaged in disseminating it about the human race. It is hard enough to stand for the immoral demands and the lack of proper clothing, without being compelled to put up with dreamy theories regarding marriage. We are just old-fashioned enough to believe that love plays some part in the present day among decent persons and as long as love has something to say, eugenic marriages will not be common.

Rest Needed

Worcester Call: Already some of the former chief enemies of Charles S. Mellen are after the directors of the New Haven, isn't it about time and place that much lambasted property rest?

The Hunted Fly

Providence Tribune: Born in 19th, the house fly loves it and revels in it when not engaged in disseminating it about the neighborhood. And so modern knowledge of the disease-distributing habits of this common insect has resulted in the carrying of "swatting" all over the country. It has also led to a consideration of the fact that dirt makes flies, with the result that campaigns of cleanliness have had an even more important effect than "swatting" crusades.

Good

Manchester Mirror: It is announced that Chicago is ready to drop partisan politics in her next city election and vote for a mayor who will give the city a clean administration without regard to party lines. If this is true it is a long step toward civic righteousness and efficiency for the Windy city.

More Notes

Boston Post: It is now announced without much trepidation at Washington that another note is coming from Japan in reply to the last communication sent her government by ours in regard to the California question. This was unexpected, and Mr. Bryan says he has no idea what the document may turn out to be. But let peace brood over the land during this dog-day period. The note from Nippon will in due time be answered from another note from Columbia, perhaps to be answered by still another from Nippon; and thus wage the world away.

The Lesson

Lowell Courier-Citizen: A Manhattan judge fined a manufacturer $50 for keeping the factory door locked while his employees were at work. It was the highest penalty for what should be a felony, but the magistrate told the man what he thought of him. The legislature will probably amend the law and put teeth in it. The lesson of the Triangle horror should not so soon be forgotten.

Nothing Worse

Worcester Post: The house republicans yesterday finally succeeded, after their long filibuster, in getting in their speeches on the Duggan-Canning bill. This work is a part of a comprehensive plan to determine the grazing value of every acre of national forest land, in which the capacity of the soil to grow certain forage crops is to be determined and an effort made to decide for which class of stock—sheep, cattle or goats—the range is best suited.

Order

Newport News: President Huerta of Mexico says he can restore order in a few weeks, and refusal by the United States to recognize his government has caused all the trouble. President Huerta is evidently proceeding on his policy of non-interference in the hope that the Mexican will succumb.

Business and Politics

Lynn News: A high protective tariff opened the way for business favors and advantages to be shown towards certain industries. All the difference between a meagre business and an exceedingly profitable and extensive business was determined by the amount of the tariff on certain goods in question. To have representatives in congress become, therefore, of very great value to more than one industry. There was therefore sent to Washington many representatives, and especially many senators, who were primarily as the representatives of certain business interests, to forward the concerns of those who employed them. Very many able men were thus brought to Washington and kept there, but the net influence was anything but wholesome.

POLICE AUTO KILLS OFFICER

Commissioner Also Fatally Injured When Car Skidded

Three Others in Machine Were Seriously Injured

WATERBURY, Conn., Aug. 4.—One police officer was killed, a police commissioner fatally hurt, and three men more or less seriously hurt yesterday when their automobile, belonging to the police department, was overturned on the road near Seymour.

The party was returning from a visit to New Haven. The machine, recently purchased, was demolished.

The dead: Robert P. Klersted, member of the local force.

The injured: William A. Johnson, police commissioner, ribs broken and internal injuries; many all.

Henry O'Connor, registrar of voters, ribs broken and internal injuries.

Christopher Dunphy, cut and bruised.

Alphonse Vallone, cut and bruised.

Skilled and Unskilled.

All of the injured were brought to this city in an ambulance sent out from St. Mary's hospital and are now at that institution. Dunphy is a saloon keeper and Vallone is known as a pugilist.

So far as the inquiry showed the automobile was not being driven at excessive speed at the time of the accident. A bridge was being crossed and the roadway was slippery. As the wheels skidded on struck a small mound of dirt and collapsing, upset the machine. Supt. Beach of the police department says Klersted was an expert driver and had never had an accident before.

New Plants Discovered

In making a study of grazing lands on the national forests, 125 entirely new species of plants have been discovered by the government's experts, and will be named and classified by the botanists of the department of agriculture.

Their discovery came about through the collection of some 5000 different plant specimens, with notes as to their habits of growth and forage value. This work is part of a comprehensive plan to determine the grazing value of every acre of national forest land, in which the capacity of the soil to grow certain forage crops is to be determined and an effort made to decide for which class of stock—sheep, cattle or goats—the range is best suited.

The men who have made the studies have combined the qualities of practical stockmen and trained botanists. They divided the areas into such small sub-divisions that maps have been prepared which show exactly the kinds of feed which grow on each acre, and the time of year it is ready for grazing. The maps also show the kind of water supply and indicate the kind of stock best suited to the area.

The investigation also showed the examination many areas covered with flourishing plants which apparently should furnish excellent grazing, but were not of a character relished by stock; these areas, therefore, had little or no stock-carrying capacity.

As a result of the study, the forest service announces that it will be in a position to perfect its system of grazing management to bring about still better conditions for both stock and range.

Educational Notes

Ada county, Idaho, has a school district containing 324 square miles.

Seven hundred home gardens were started in Port Ewen, N. Y., this year under the direction of the school authorities.

Every high school graduate in Nebraska receives a letter from the University of Nebraska congratulating him on his graduation and urging him to consider the advantages offered by the State university.

A vocational summer school, with practical men and women in charge of it, is in operation in Baltimore, Md., this year. Printing and woodwork are among the subjects taught the boys; the girls have cooking, sewing and other household branches.

The National Kindergarten college in Chicago is devoting a large part of its summer program to the methods of Dr. Montessori. Two of Dr. Montessori's graduate students, who have spent over a year with her in Rome, have charge of the practice work with the children.

School children and teachers of Pontiac, Mich., parish, in the flood district of Louisiana, planted 15,000 fruit and pecan trees last year. Supt. Trudeau has also a plan whereby road work in the parish will be done by school boys.

Students at the Georgia State Normal school at Athens, Ga., study racial sociology as applied to their own districts, so that when they go out to teach they know the opportunities and needs of the locality better than those who have lived in it all their lives. How this work makes for community betterment is told by E. C. Brainerd in a bulletin just issued by the United States bureau of education.

WILSON CONFERS WITH BRYAN

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4.—Ambassador Henry Lane Wilson returned to Washington today for a conference with Secretary Bryan. The ambassador's return evidently had been arranged on short notice. His telegram from Secretary Bryan merely said he was wanted to confer on "important matters." Mr. Wilson himself disclaimed knowledge for what he had been summoned.

PARCEL POST RATES REDUCED

Beginning Aug. 15 Weight Limit Will be 20 Pounds Instead of 11 as at Present

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4.—The new regulations intended to further popularize the parcel post will go into effect Aug. 15, postmaster General Burleson announced today. Beginning on that date the weight limit will be 20 pounds instead of eleven, as at present, and local rates will be reduced from five cents for the first pound and one cent for each additional pound or fraction thereof. For delivery in the first zone the rate will be reduced from five cents for the first pound and three cents for each additional pound to five cents and one cent; for the second zone the rate will be cut from six cents and four cents to five cents and one cent for additional postage.

MOTHER AND DAUGHTER MURDERED

KIRKSVILLE, Mo., Aug. 4.—Mrs. Ivy Chevelier, aged 40, and her daughter Ella, 15, were found murdered in their home here. Apparently they had been dead for two hours. The two had been beaten over the heads and were lying on the floor in their nightgowns. Mrs. Chevelier and her daughter conducted a laundry.

REDUCTIONS IN EXPRESS RATES

Ordered by Interstate Commission to Become Effective Oct. 15—Reforms Also Ordered

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4.—Reductions in express rates which will cost the companies fully $26,000,000, approximately 16 per cent. of their gross revenue, were ordered by the interstate commerce commission today to become effective on or before October 15, 1913. Notable reforms in practices also were ordered.

The new system of rates is not only a simplification of existing rate structures and methods but in the opinion of rate experts lays the foundation for future practice in all rate revisions.

While the committee had not considered the practicability of the application of the block system to the making of freight rates it is known that the question may be taken up at almost any time. With a standard freight rate once established between blocks instead of between points and all other rates stated in percentages of the standard, the mystery of the present complicated maze of freight rates, in the opinion of the commission's experts, would be solved.

Merchandise Rates

The basis of the classification prescribed by the commission is that all articles of merchandise of ordinary value are to be carried at first class or ordinary merchandise rates. Articles of food and drink with a few exceptions are second class and are to be carried at 75 per cent. of the first class rate.

The rates for newspapers and periodicals as well as for bread and such articles for which specially low rates now are charged are substantially the same as the present rates. A permanent committee has been appointed to revise the rates of express carriers to eliminate the circuitous routes which are now a cause of considerable complaint on the part of shippers.

With regard to the parcel post and its effect upon the express companies the report says:

With regard to the small package business of the parcel post it should be noted that it will still be carried upon the railroads of the country. So far as the mail carriers are concerned it is no consequence to them whether they furnish rail transportation for the express respondents herein or for the postoffice department. The express companies, moreover, will not experience a gross loss of their earnings upon these small parcels but only of the net difference between their earnings heretofore and the cost to them of furnishing terminal service upon these parcels.

The commission's conclusion is that the establishment of the parcel post is not a justification for any higher scale of rates than the one here shown to be reasonable.

The commission's order is for two years only. That period will give abundant opportunity for a test of these rates under varying conditions amounting to a normal average. In no other way can the absolutely proper rate basis for respondents be finally determined.

Respondents are also at liberty at any time to bring forward new facts as a basis for a petition for modification of this or any other order.

The decision of the commission deferred as it has been for more than a year followed an investigation that occupied nearly six years of hearings, special examinations of accounts and phrases of the express business. Nearly a cartload of books and papers have been filed and are a part of the proceedings in this case.

PARDONS 4 PRISONERS

OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 4.—Lieut. Gov. J. J. McAllister, as acting governor, in the absence from the state of Gov. Lea Cruce, issued pardons to four prisoners in the state penitentiary and assigned school book contracts which the governor has been holding in abeyance two years.

These acts, according to state officials, caused Gov. Cruce to leave Kansas City hurriedly for Oklahoma City. He had been spending his vacation in Kansas City.

The school board contracts were made by a former board, the members of which Gov. Cruce was instrumental in removing. The pardons were by P. Updyke, nephew of ex-Gov. Hays, imprisoned in connection with a killing at Oklahoma City. George Crump Jr., serving a sentence for fraud connected with an Indian land sale; J. W. Dobbis, sentenced to 10 years for manslaughter; and Ben Bond, sentenced for attempting to bribe a district judge.

MONEY FROM U. S. TO MOVE CROPS IN WHEAT BELT PLEASES HARVESTERS

SECRETARY McADOO

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4.—Over 100 banks in the south and west have asked for government money to help move the crops, as offered by Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo. Farmers in the great wheatfields of the country are rejoicing over the action of the administration, judging from telegrams which have been received by the treasury department. The merry buzz of the great harvesters will go on more merrily than ever, for the crops are fairly heavy this year and money was tight. The banks applying asked for amounts ranging from $25,000 to $1,000,000, and it was estimated in the office of the secretary of the treasury that the total amount represented in the applications was about $20,000,000. In some cities the national banks applied as a group.

WASHINGTON "JAGLESS" CITY

The recent law passed by congress was responsible for the wave of Sunday sobriety. The record, so far as the police have been able to ascertain is unparalleled in the annals of the department.

TWO BROTHERS KILLED

Were Shot in Dispute at Woonsocket

WOONSOCKET, Aug. 4.—Santo Depatri, aged 24, and Doreo Depatri, aged 22, brothers, were shot and killed today afternoon, about 5:30 o'clock, following a dispute over a bottle of beer and the Italian finger game.

Santo was killed with a bullet from a 32-caliber revolver in the yard of his home at 179 Cato street.

Doreo was shot with a charge from a shotgun as he was leaving the yard on Cato street. He ran 50 yards down Cato street and then fell unconscious. He died on the way to the hospital.

A third brother, Doreo Depatri, escaped unhurt after three shots from a revolver had been fired at him.

The police are searching the city and surrounding country in an attempt to locate Santo Depatri, who is said to have done all the shooting.

The trouble followed a day of carousing at Clement's tavern, where the three brothers had been drinking.

During the day the three brothers had been playing a game of cards, and while the finger game was being played a row started over the possession of a bottle of beer.

The fight occurred in the house and the Depatri brothers went into the yard. Doreo, it is alleged, reached out of an open window and fired a shot into Santo's breast. Santo started to run away and Clement is said to have fired one shot from a double-barreled shotgun. Clement laid down on the ground when the last began to fly, and although three shots from the revolver were fired at him he escaped injury.

Gimberto ran from his back yard toward Blackstone. The police were notified immediately after the shooting and found Doreo lying in the street.
